A GOVERNMENT OF PLUNDER. We have omitted so far to comment upon the extraordinary action of the Committee on Grounds and Buildings on Tuesday evening in making a present of $2,100 of the city's money when awarding the contracts for gas fixtures and metallic work for the new City Hall, in expectation of some explanation of the circumstance which has not come. Colonel Cutshaw, the trusted City Engineer, told the committee emphatically that the articles to be furnished by the lower bidders met the city's requirements entirely. Notwithstanding this, however, the majority of the committee awarded the contracts to the highest bidders, thus throwing away $2,100 of the city's money as effectively as if they had torn it up and thrown the fragments in the fire.

To what are we coming if this is to be the rule of procedure in this city? If the Street Committee can give away the city's money to sewer diggers and the Committee on Grounds and Buildings can give away $2,100 of her money one evening to two contractors, of course, each other committee can give away whatever sum it chooses and we have then come to the pass that the city government is a race between the different committees to see which can give away the most of the public money contributed by the tax-payers of the city. City government then is no longer to be government, but a wholesale scheme of plunder. Things had just as well be called by their right names, and if this is to be the theory for spending the public money, it is robbery and plunder and nothing less.

This thing has got to be corrected. If the voters of the city will arouse themselves and send men to their city council who will spend the money of the taxpayers so as to secure them the best results for the money spent, the thing will be all right. If, however, the majority of the voters are determined to perpetuate a city government that robs the tax-payer to create a fund for favorites of the council, popular government will be a failure here and the Legislature should be appealed to, to put the government of the city under commissioners, as was the case with the city of Memphis when she became bankrupt from municipal mismanagement and corruption during the reconstruction period. It is shocking to think of what may be in store for Richmond!

FHE SOUTH CAROLINA REFORMS. The foolish legislation which those who call themselves "Reformers" in South Carolina have enacted is beginning to bear its legitimate fruit. These people struck the word "justice" out of their political vocabulary, and made "power" the sole test of expediency. When they secured control of the State Government, the sole question to be determined when a revolutionary measure was proposed that would confiscate property owned by corporations, but particularly railroad corporations, was, can the measure be enacted and enforced within the prohibitions of the United States Constitution? If it was determined that it could be, it was passed. If, even, there was a hope that it could get through as a desperate measure, that settled the question in favor of the measure. This was not all the evil legislation that they set on foot. Their statute book has come to be covered, page after page, with class and sumptuary laws, of which the most undemocratic is, perhaps, that which converts the State into a paternal (or, perhaps, more correctly, maternal) barkeeper for all the people.

But the acts which confecate the property of corporations are naturally arousing those corporations and that large class of persons who live by the employment PUBLISHED BY they receive from corporations, to retallatory measures. It seems that these have formed themselves into Democratic clubs all over the State, numbering new BICHMOND, VA more than 400, and these clubs propose to take an active and effective part in the future government and regulation of the Democratic party in South Carolina. The declaration of principles of this league of clubs contains the following: .We condemn the vicious class legislation attempted and enacted by the Legis-lature at its recent session, and indorsed and approved by the Governor of this State, the pernicious effects of which will be to put to hazard all industries dependent upon corporate capital, to lessen the volume of currency, to increase the cost of credit, and to render uncertain and precarious the occupation of all wate-workers within the State.

wate-workers within the State.

"We denounce the inconsistency of the so-called Reform party, which, proclaiming salaries too large, omits to reduce them; declaring taxes too high, increases them: professing opposition to monopoly, conspires to make the State a monopolist; preaching prohibition, legislates the State itself into a rum-seller.

"We declare our principles to be em-bodied in the simple but sound Demo-eratic doctrine of equal rights to all, special privileges to none, and our purpose is to repeal and to oppose all legislation inconsistent therewith."

There is not a word in this platform that does not meet the unqualified indorsement of Impartial thinking men. Aimed, as the laws are, at a class, it was to be expected that that class would strike back; and, when it says that such legislation puts to hazard all industries dependent upon corporate capital (without which the State would be put back 150 years), lessens the volume of currency, increases the cost of credit, and renders uncertain and precarious the occupation of all wage-workers within the State, it tells no more than the naked truth, which all men who have given the smallest attention to the subject know to be

It was an unlucky day for South Carolina when her "Reformers" adopted this as the line of their "reforms." It is exactly the line of reform adopted 450 years ago by that distinguished English reformer, the Hon. Jack Cade.

Bad as South Carolina's class and confiscatory legislation is, it is, at any rate, not so ridiculous as that which makes her undertake to do all the bar-keeping

A recent dispatch from Columbia, S. C., to the Baltimore Sun says:

"When Governor Benjamin R. Tillman returns from Pittsburg, where he is purchasing glass for the State liquor dispensary, he will find work well advanced on the building in this city to be used as State bar-room. The building will resent a handsome appearance. Convicts have leveled the yard and made the surroundings attractive. The leading liquor dealers, whose business will taken out of their hands June 30th, are not saying much."

This is Socialism and paternalism in its most rampant form, and the results will be watched with extreme interest by all outsiders, because we can form some idea from what takes place there of the result if the General Government should answer the demands of "Reformers" of this type and take possession of all the railroads, telegraph and telephone lines in the country. We predict that when whisky drinking becomes a matter regulated by office holders whose offices and tenure of office depend upon the votes of the people, we are going to see a carnival that the most enthusiastic tippler never dreamed of. The Governor will have to go to Pittsburg or some other glass market very frequently to supply his bar-rooms with glassware, unless he shall discard glass and supply voters drinks in tin cups, and the Governor who once does that win "never more be officer" of theirs.

We clip from the New York Herald the following very pointed and very sensible

The monthly review of Southern industries shows that sectional prejudices are stepping into the grave and the bonds of new paper mill here, a new cotton mill there, a new iron mine opened in one place, a large tract of valuable forest bought up in another place, show plainly enough that Southern enterprise and Northern capital are working together for the common weal.

A union based on political aspirations is a good thing, but a union based on large investments and hoped for dividends is not easily broken. When the United States were practically two nations, with outlook, customs, habits agonistic; when North and South were only slightly interdependent commercially, jealousies and prejudices and ani-mosities were easily aroused and allayed

Nowadays the whole complexion of life has altered. Massachusetts has put a pile of money into Alabama. The mer-chants of the West are silent partners in ventures scattered from the Potomac to the Gulf. Louisiana and New York share the fate of new schemes.

Business is better than a sponge to clean the old slate and make it ready for a fresh sum in addition. It isn't a new South, it's the South with its eyes open; it isn't a new North, it's the North listening to the hum of Southern machinery with a personal interest in the sale of its products. These things insure the future better than fortifications and a standing army. This strikes the true keynote. Let our Northern brethren dispel from their minds their prejudices and ideas of turbulence and violence in the South and invest their money in the countless opportunities for doubling and quadrupling it which the South offers, and we will hear no more of force bills and disloyalty. That is the way to make "a more perfect Union."

State Board of Agriculture.

The State Board of Agriculture met at 9:30 yesterday morning, President Sutherham, Gaines, Corbin, Koiner and White head. Mr. Corbin, chairman of the "Farmers' Institute" held at Manassas for the Eighth district, made his report, which was adopted. It showed that the institute was in session two days in the argest building available in Manassas, the rooms being crowded, and was a great success. The farmers present were a most intelligent class of men, and every question was discussed thoroughly with the professors. Two addresses, one on the "Horn Fly" and one on the "Fly Weavel," were ordered to be published for general distribution throughout the State. The invitation extended the board by the Westmoreland Club was accepted, and the board then adjourned to meet again at 4 P. M.
